The American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Institute of Physics seek applicants for the AAPT/AIP Master Teacher Policy Fellowship, recently funded by the AIP Venture Partnership Fund.

This fellowship will bring together a dozen K-12 classroom teachers of physics and physical science to Washington, DC to develop and revise their own plans for effecting change in policy that relates to physics education.

Prior and current K-12 classroom teachers of physics and physical science with evidence of leadership are encouraged to apply.

See <https://www.aapt.org/k12/> for further details.

The American Institute of Physics is a federation of physical societies, including the American Association of Physics Teachers (AAPT). The AAPT is a professional membership association of scientists dedicated to enhancing the understanding and appreciation of physics through teaching.
